NEW ENGLAND IS EMERGING FROM STORM

Railroad Traffic and Communication Crippled for Week, Though

WORST CONDITION IN YEARS

Vice President Marshall Is on Marooned Train; Many Delayed by Snow

NEW YORK, March 2 With temperatures rising and fair weather promised, New York and vicinity tonight began to emerge from the storm which railroad and telegraph company officials assert has been the most destructive in this section of the country since the memorable blizzard of 1888

Reports from other cities showed the damage caused by wind, snow rain and sleet to be widespread From Cleveland on the west and Baltimore on the south to the Canadian and Nova Scotian borders, the storm has been general In New England further damage is expected from rivers and streams swollen by melting ice and snow In and near New York 11 persons perished yesterday and today and several fatalities were reported elsewhere

Except by roundabout routes and with the aid of a few wires running underground commercial New York still remained cut off from telegraph communication with the west and south.

Tied Up for a Week.

The public service corporations reached Philadelphia by way of Montreal and had a few wires to Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Scranton, Wilmington, Richmond and Reading For the most part there were telephone circuits It will be at least a week it was stated, before service can be restored to normal conditions

Telegraph company officials said they could not estimate the cost of making repairs The loss to one company alone was placed at $200,000 for New York and vicinity.

One lesson taught at the time [illegible] from [illegible] inauguration, telephone company officials said that at no time has telephone service to the national capital been cut off completely. After the experience in 1909, wires to Washington were placed underground and during the present disturbance, according to the telephone officials, proved the value of the change

A. P. Maintains Service.

Despite the serious wire situation that has continued for more than two days the service of the Associated Press has been maintained intact throughout the eastern territory affected. While routed in a slightly roundabout manner in some instances wires to the south and west by way of Washington, Pittsburg and Chicago were kept in constant operation

Poughkeepsie and Schenectady were the only cities even temporarily cut off from communication Wire connection with Poughkeepsie was established early tonight after it had been shut off from wire intercourse with the outside world for 30 hours

The fallen telegraph poles which interrupted wire service continued to delay trains for many hours Trains are "lost" on many roads in New York New Jersey Pennsylvania and many other states The Pennsylvania railroad announced tonight it had resumed sending out trains regularly from the local terminal at 8 30 p m after 5 hours of interrupted service

Three trains en route from Philadelphia were stalled at Trenton and

CITIES MUST USE TAX FOR CURRENT YEAR

State Supreme Court Renders Important Decision to Many Municipalities

"PAY AS YOU GO POLICY"

Reverses the Suit by Bantley Against City Treasurer of Leadville

DENVER, March 2—A municipality must use its income from taxes for a certain year to meet the expenses of that year if there is any surplus remaining it may be applied to liquidate outstanding city warrants in numerical order This in brief was the decision of the state supreme court today in the case in which Joseph H Bantley sought to compel Olive Ostling city treasurer of Leadville to apply the city's tax income to liquidate warrants held by Bantley

The decision was rendered en banc reversing the decision of the lower court Chief Justice Musser did not participate The decision was by Justice Gabbert.

According to attorneys the decision will affect every city in Colorado having outstanding warrants The view was expressed by some attorneys that the decision invalidated the warrants held by Bantley inasmuch as the yearly income of Leadville was utilized annually in meeting current expenses The same conditions were said to prevail in other cities

Asks Redemption of Bonds

In the decision today the court did not pass upon the question of whether the city of Leadville has reached the limit of its indebtedness of whether it legally can issue bonds

Bantley claimed he held 72 legal warrants duly registered amounting to more than $5,500 that when he asked the treasurer to apply approximately $500 on hand to taking up some of the old warrants she informed him the council had decided to apply current revenue to the payment of current expenses for the fiscal year beginning April 13, 1913

According to the agreed statement of fact on which the cause was submitted all the warrants in question had been issued and registered prior to April 13 1913 It was further stipulated that during the times mentioned in the alternative writ the city had outstanding registered warrants amounting approximately to $250,000 issued for salaries and current expenses and that during this period such warrants exceeded 3 per cent of the assessed valuation of taxable property

SEVENTY YEARS ON STAGE

Mme. Daynes-Grassot at 81 Charms Paris in "La Belle Aventure"

From the New York Sun

PARIS.—"I was born in 1832, so that I am now 81 years old," writes Mme. Daynes-Grassot, who is now appearing as the Marquise de Treviliac in "La Belle Aventure" at the Vaudeville theater. "In our profession there is a tendency to making one's self younger rather than older, but during the rehearsals of our play I asked the authors to make the marquise my own age instead of 75, as they had originally made it. I said I could play it more naturally."

Mme. Daynes-Grassot plays the part, which is one of the important roles in the play, to perfection. She has been on the stage for 70 years, having made her first appearance at the age of 11, in a revue at the Porte Saint-Martin theater.

Her first real engagement was at the theater built by Napoleon III at Chalons camp to give healthy amusement to the soldiers and keep them from the wine shops. The program varied nightly, comedy and comic opera being given alternately. The soldiers did not pay for their seats, and the theater was a cold, miserable place so that they were by no means a pleasing audience to play to. The emperor came two or three times a year.

At the end of her three years' engagement a benefit performance was given for Mme. Daynes-Grassot, which realized $100 net. Such a magnificent result had never before been attained by any artist of that theater.

After some years in the provinces she joined the Vaudeville theater in Paris, where Albert Carre, the new director of the Comedie Francaise, was the manager. She has remained at this theater practically ever since.

Mme. Daynes-Grassot speaks far more kindly of her profession than veteran actors are wont to do.

"My career has been pleasant and smooth," she says. "Like happy nations, I have no history.

"I have heard all sorts of stories told of rivalries, spite and bad turns played on one another by actors, managers and the public, but I have never known anything of the kind. I have never met but excellent comrades, charming managers, attentive authors and an adorable public."

VAUDEVILLE, OPERA HOUSE

Centuries ago the black art was practiced in India by the Indian magicians much the same as it is today. It is one of the oldest things under the sun and probably one of the least understood. Outside of India it is seldom that one sees a real master of black art. Its secrets are as closely guarded as are those of mighty governments, and it is very infrequently that one is enabled to learn any of the mysteries.

So it is that the appearance at the Opera house here today, tomorrow and Wednesday of the Pharos will be of more than usual interest. The Pharos are among the few who have managed to learn the mysteries of Indian black art. In some manner they wormed the secrets out of an old Indian magician. And while they are performing them for the benefit of the American people they are guarding them as religiously as the Indian doctors themselves. In their performances at the Opera house they will present several of the most difficult and marvelous of all the tricks performed by the Indians. They are not magicians in the generally accepted term, they are practitioners of the Indian black art. Their act should prove both interesting and entertaining.

The bill of vaudeville which opens at the Opera house this afternoon will be one of the best seen here in months if reviews from papers in other cities are a criterion. In addition to the Pharos will be Benito, called the "Kubelik of Vaudeville," who is one of the best violinists off the concert stage in this country. His selections—both classical and popular—will undoubtedly be well received by Colorado Springs playgoers. Then there will be Harry Belding and Myrtle Souders, a music-mad pair. Belding is a ragtime pianist of the first water. And Miss Souders knows how to sing raggy songs. Her latest song, "Kewpie," is new in this city, and many are eager to hear it.

Udell and Rippell have an act which some eastern critic has called "the limit in grotesque comedy." These comedians have scored a triumph wherever they have appeared, and undoubtedly will do much to add to the current bill at the local house. Otto and Olivia offer a comedy juggling act that also is called different. Both are excellent jugglers and they have taken the monotony from their performance by introducing new and clever bits of comedy. In fact, the entire bill will prove pleasing.

"THE CANDY SHOP"

Until "The Candy Shop" made its box office record-smashing run of eight weeks last fall at the new Gaiety theater in San Francisco, an engagement of more than two or three weeks at the most was unheard of in that city, and a theatrical event that previously was considered impossible. During that period the Anderson Gaiety company success played to a total gross of $87,000 and that same run could easily have been extended as many weeks more with practically the same success, but for booking arrangements which made it imperative

BACK BACKACHE IS SIGN YOU HAVE BEEN EATING TOO MUCH MEAT

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv.

A Final Season's Wind-Up Sale at Robbins'

Consider the quality of the goods. Think over carefully the things you need. No better values can be honestly offered. This Final Clearance covers every article of wear that men, young men and boys need. It is an unusual money-saving opportunity.

Robbins'

to shift the offering to Los Angeles in order to make room for a new production.

At the new Morosco theater in the latter city "The Candy Shop" scored the same success and the management was just as reluctant to send it on the road for the same reasons that necessitated the move from San Francisco. While the northland city and Los Angeles are both losers by the deal, other cities and towns will in turn be winners, for "The Candy Shop" is being sent on a tour that will give the other sections of the country an opportunity to see this wonderfully successful entertainment.

A very attractive offer has been made lately for the show to play an engagement of 40 weeks or more in Australia, with a stopoff of a fortnight in Honolulu. The overtures comprise free transportation and a cash guarantee that is known to look mighty alluring to the management. In event that this deal is closed, the company and complete production will depart from these shores, May 10, next, and as the contract will have an optional extension clause, it is likely to be a year hence before the outfit returns to the United States.

Manager Baker of the Opera house has secured The Candy Shop for a return engagement next Sunday.

NEW ENGLAND IS EMERGING FROM STORM

Railroad Traffic and Communication Crippled for Week, Though

WORST CONDITION IN YEARS

NEW YORK, March 2—With temperatures rising and fair weather promised, New York and vicinity tonight began to emerge from the storm which railroad and telegraph company officials assert has been the most destructive in this section of the country since the memorable blizzard of 1888

Reports from other cities showed the damage caused by wind, snow, rain and sleet to be widespread From Cleveland on the west and Baltimore on the south, to the Canadian and Nova Scotian borders, the storm has been general In New England, further damage is expected from rivers and streams swollen by melting ice and snow In and near New York 11 persons perished yesterday and today and several fatalities were reported elsewhere.

Except by roundabout routes and with the aid of a few wires running underground, commercial New York still remained cut off from telegraph communication with the west and south.

Tied Up for a Week.

The public service corporations reached Philadelphia by way of Montreal and had a few wires to Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Scranton, Wilmington, Richmond and Reading For the most part there were telephone circuits It will be at least a week, it was stated, before service can be restored to normal conditions.

Telegraph company officials said they could not estimate the cost of making repairs The loss to one company alone was placed at $[illegible] for New York and vicinity.

[illegible] is left tonight at the time [illegible] There is [illegible] said that at no time has telephone service to the national capital been cut off completely. After the experience in 1888, wires to Washington were placed underground and during the present disturbance, according to the telephone officials, proved the value of the change.

A. P. Maintains Service.

Despite the serious wire situation that has continued for more than two days, the service of the Associated Press has been maintained intact throughout the eastern territory affected. While routed in a slightly roundabout manner in some instances, wires to the south and west by way of Washington, Pittsburg and Chicago were kept in constant operation

Poughkeepsie and Schenectady were the only cities even temporarily cut off from communication. Wire connection with Poughkeepsie was established early tonight after it had been shut off from wire intercourse with the outside world for 30 hours

The fallen telegraph poles which interrupted wire service continued to delay trains for many hours Trains are "lost" on many roads in New York New Jersey, Pennsylvania and many other states. The Pennsylvania railroad announced tonight it had resumed sending out trains regularly from the local terminal at $.30 p. m after 25 hours of interrupted service

JOHN LENNOX APPEARS AT CREDIT BOARD HEARINGS

Local Man, Expert on Dry Farming, in Washington Telling Rural Loan Committee About Conditions

John Lennox an expert on rural credits and retiring chairman of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been in Washington during the last week appearing before the special committee on rural credits of the house of representatives Lennox appeared before the committee at a special request tendered through Congressman H H Seldomridge of this city

That the work of the Chamber of Commerce in developing the agricultural districts surrounding Colorado Springs is of extreme importance is shown by the request that Lennox testify at the hearings of the rural credits committee in Washington. The commercial body has done much for the farmers east of this city and the work has been of such a broad nature as to attract attention throughout the state where the subject is discussed

Lennox was largely instrumental in getting out the work He is perhaps better posted on dry farming conditions than any other man in the west and he has spent much time studying the needs of the farmer and especially the question of rural credits

BURNO RESIGNS AS POLICE CHIEF

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF BIG CATTLE RANCH

Stark Will Probably Succeed Him; Change Takes Effect March 10

Stanley D Burno, chief of the police department for the last three years, and one of the best-known peace officers in Colorado has tendered his resignation to Commissioner of Public Safety D G Johnson to take effect March 10 Burno will take charge of a big cattle ranch near Kremmling Colo in partnership with Ralph O Giddings of this city

While Commissioner Johnson would make no statement last night as to Chief Burnos successor it is understood that Captain Howard Stark will be recommended Although the police department is under civil service, the chief of police is not and any citizen is eligible for the position

"I have several men in mind outside the department, but have considered Captain Stark seriously" said Commissioner Johnson "I intend to investigate the various phases of the question, however, before making a decision"

Peace Officer 13 Years.

Burno has been connected with the police department and the sheriff's office for the last 13 years He is an experienced stockman, and has been interested in cattle for years At the present time he has a herd of 100 cattle on pasture south of Colorado Springs.

The ranch of which he will take charge consists of about 1,000 acres of land, with plenty of open range adjoining It is considered one of the best in Grand county It has an annual yield of 500 tons of hay and is stocked with 300 head of cattle The number will be largely increased in the near future.

MINE ASSESSMENTS ON ONE-HALF GROSS AND ALL NET VALUE

State Supreme Court Renders Sweeping Decision on Teller Cases

DENVER March 2 Assessors and commissioners of Teller Lake and other counties of Colorado may be obliged to revise the assessments for several years back according to a decision handed down in the supreme court today holding in effect under the 1913 law that the assessment on mines shall be one-half the gross and all the net value of the ore mined

The decision determines what constitutes the gross proceeds of a mine The commissioners of Teller county held that gross proceeds was the full amount received for the ore at the court held that gross proceeds are what remains when transportation and treatment charges are deducted

New Law Upheld

The suit was brought under an old tax law which provided that mines should be assessed on the basis of one-fourth the gross proceeds A law enacted in 1913 provides that mines shall be assessed on the basis of 50 per cent of the gross and all the net income

Accordingly assessment will be made on the basis of 50 per cent of money received for ore after transportation and treatment charges are paid and 100 per cent of the net income

The value of property sites and equipment also will be considered in making the assessment under the law

Today's decision which was prepared by Justice W H Gabbert sustains a decision previously rendered against S C Paxson assessor of Teller county in a suit against the Crescent Consolidated Gold Mining and Milling company

Mr Murphy sat silently through the meeting betraying no sign when other committeemen applauded speeches by Mr Osborn and others At the close of the meeting he walked to the platform shook hands with Mr Osborn and said

"Whenever you want me send for me"

Mr Osborn thanked Mr Murphy, but made no other response

When Mr Murphy was asked for an expression regarding the selection of Mr Osborn he replied

I voted for him didn't I" That answers the question

In his speech of acceptance Mr Osborn expressed his opposition to an "advisory" state convention this fall

Assemblyman Mark Goldberg was chosen to succeed Bart Dunn in the Sixteenth district Dunn was recently convicted of highway frauds It was rumored that Mr McLean would resign not only as treasurer but also as a committeeman, but he said he had no intention of doing this

SHAFROTH LEADS IN SUFFRAGE DEBATE

Action on Proposed Amendment Now Seems Assured Soon

WASHINGTON, March 2—Action by the senate within a few days on the proposed woman suffrage constitutional amendment seemed assured tonight after a day of debate during which the measure was made the unfinished business

An immediate vote seemed imminent at one time when there was a chorus of demands for a roll call, but Senator Shafroth and others held up the vote

Senator Shafroth's speech in favor of the amendment drew forth hostile inquiries from Senators Bryan and Martine Senators Clark of Wyoming and Works expressed doubt as to the propriety of the government forcing equal suffrage upon states that did not desire it Senator Borah asserted the amendment should not be adopted if it was not to be enforced in the southern states He quoted speeches to show that the proponents of the amendment had contended it would not interfere with the grandfather clause disfranchising negroes in southern states

CHICAGO March 2 Nathan Spira charged with conspiracy to commit arson who has conducted his own defense placed himself on the witness stand today and cross-examined himself Counsel for the state had refused to cross-examine Spira but had objected to his telling his story without being questioned which would have made it impossible for the prosecutor to object to statements before they were in the record.

CITIES MUST USE TAX FOR CURRENT YEAR

State Supreme Court Renders Important Decision to Many Municipalities

"PAY AS YOU GO POLICY"

Reverses the Suit by Bantley Against City Treasurer of Leadville

DENVER, March 2—A municipality must use its income from taxes for a certain year to meet the expenses of that year if there is any surplus remaining it may be applied to liquidate outstanding its warrants in numerical order This in brief was the decision of the state supreme court today in the case in which Joseph H Bantley sought to compel Olive Ostling city treasurer of Leadville to apply the city's tax income to liquidate warrants held by Bantley

The decision was rendered en banc, reversing the decision of the lower court Chief Justice Musser did not participate The decision was by Justice Gabbert.

According to attorneys the decision will affect every city in Colorado having outstanding warrants The view was expressed by some attorneys that the decision invalidated the warrants held by Bantley inasmuch as the yearly income of Leadville was utilized annually in meeting current expenses Same conditions were said to prevail in other cities

Asks Ridjaction of Bonds.

In the decision today the court did not pass upon the question of whether the city of Leadville has reached the limit of its indebtedness of whether it legally can issue bonds

Bantley claimed he held 72 legal warrants duly registered amounting to more than $5,000 that when he asked the treasurer to apply approximately $500 on hand to taking up some of the old warrants she informed him the council had decided to apply current revenue to the payment of current expenses for the fiscal year beginning April 12, 1913

According to the agreed statement of fact on which the cause was submitted all the warrants in question had been issued and registered prior to April 13 1913 It was further stipulated that during the times mentioned in the alternative writ the city had outstanding registered warrants amounting approximately to $250,000 issued for salaries and current expenses and that during this period such warrants exceeded 3 per cent of the assessed valuation of taxible property

Explains System in Use

Under the system the witness said the mines entered into three months contracts but no measurements were made until the end of this period the men being advanced $6 to $70 a month for the first two months work and then paid the difference when the contract expired A system of monthly contracts was employed now he said

Rebel Leader Disregards All Inquiries Made by the U S Government

NOGALES Sonora Mexico March 2 General Venustiano Carranza supreme chief of the constitutionalists upheld today the action of General Villa in halting the commission investigating the death of the British subject William S Benton

He took the stand that requests for any information regarding Bentons death should come to him as acting head of the revolution through the diplomatic agents of Great Britain This had been explained as his stand in the matter in the last communication to the state department at Washington which had asked and been refused information about the Benton case

In a statement issued by Ysidro Fabela acting secretary of foreign relations General Carranza's stand was given as follows

Carranza's Stand

General Villa has received orders from Mr Carranza not to deal in justice of an international character In view of this order General Villa suspended all negotiations with the American and English consular officials and suspended the passport of the commissioner to go from Juarez to the bodies of Benton

The Benton incident is a question of insertion of the constitutionalist commander-in-chief during the days For the first time he summoned the cabinet to consider the matter

It was understood that Carranza's previous stand in the Benton affair had been taken without discussion before the entire cabinet although several individual advices had been received

SEN. THORNTON FAVORS REPEAL CANAL TOLLS

Many Democratic Leaders Declare They Will Back President Wilson

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Announcing his support of President Wilson's policy to repeal the provision of the Panama act exempting from tolls American coastwise shipping, Senator Thornton, Democrat, of Louisiana, in a statement today said the president had informed him "that in his judgment the repeal of the exemption clause is necessary for the continuance of our present friendly relations with foreign powers and the success of our foreign policies."

Senator Thornton is a member of the interoceanic canals committee, which urged toll exemption, and he is one of several Democratic members of that committee who have told the president that they would reverse their position. He said today that he formerly favored exemption, "believing that the United States had the legal and moral right under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty to enact such legislation."

Appreciates Difference.

"I believe now just as firmly as before," continued the senator, "that the exemption clause of the Panama canal act is not a violation of our treaty obligations, but I recognize now as I always did the substantial difference between our right of exemption and our enforcement of that right.

"Considering the canal tolls exemption law previously enacted to be a question of policy and not of principle and recognizing the great responsibility resting on the president for the successful conduct of our foreign relations and also the delicacy of the present trying situation in regard to those relations, I feel it my public duty to fall in line with the president in carrying out his wishes in this matter.

Administration leaders in the senate believe that the repeal will carry by a substantial majority, despite some party opposition, and it is also believed that the question will be up for action within two weeks. Representative Adamson expects to introduce a repeal bill in a few days.

ILLINOIS MINE WORKERS WILL SUPPORT DEMANDS MINERS IN CENTRAL FIELD

PEORIA, Ill., March 2.—The United Mine Workers of Illinois today decided to support the demands of the miners in the central competitive fields, and if no basis of settlement is reached all mines will be abandoned until the miners and operators agree upon a new contract at Philadelphia.

Among the resolutions which will be acted upon tomorrow is one aimed at Secretary Daniels, McDonald because of his stand against Samuel Gompers at Indianapolis. The resolutions protest that too much time was spent in personal attacks and suggest that such orators hire a hall.

their passengers were sent to hotels by the Pennsylvania railroad. Elsewhere in New Jersey a train with Vice President Marshall as a passenger was believed to be proceeding slowly toward Washington. The Congressional limited that left New York yesterday was believed to be near Wilmington tonight. An express train that left here yesterday at 4 o'clock, it was learned today, reached Philadelphia, two hours' distant, after 21½ hours.

On the 13-mile stretch of the Lehigh Valley line between Jersey City and Newark, 103 poles were in the path of trains. The Federal express which left Washington yesterday afternoon over the Pennsylvania lines arrived here at 8:27 o'clock tonight. Today's Federal express had not been heard from up to a late hour.

The train delays prevented the transportation of mails and has left the city facing a possible shortage of milk, meat and provisions. A coal famine is threatened because of the snow-filled streets, which are almost impassable, after a snowfall of between 13 and 14 inches since yesterday morning.

Fire Danger Great.

Fire Commissioner Robert Adamson said the danger of a conflagration here was the greatest in years, owing to the fire alarm telegraph system being interrupted. Several hundred firemen were assigned to patrol the unprotected districts. There were no serious fires.

Several northern New Jersey cities were in darkness again tonight. Jersey City and Newark were without fire protection and men patrolled the city streets with lanterns, prepared to send in alarms by telephone. In Newark, schools and factories closed. Several thousand men and women were thrown out of work.

The first steamers to arrive since Sunday morning reached quarantine late today. The Philadelphia of the American line is 26 hours late, having loomed up as a glass ship, as she was covered with ice and snow. Capt. A. R. Mills said the voyage was the roughest of the liner's 230 trips in 16 years.

Street Car Accident.

The Minnetonka came in a day late and the Kaiser Franz Josef I, the Cincinnati and several other vessels are many hours overdue.

Harbor traffic generally was interrupted. Several tugs sank near the Brooklyn water front. Their crews were rescued.

The first serious street car accident of the storm here occurred late tonight when a trolley sweeper, running down grade on Second avenue, ran into the rear platform of a surface car when the brakes on the sweeper failed to work. An unidentified man was crushed to death, and two persons were injured.

Business Paralyzed.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Hundreds of persons climbed huge snowbanks in lower Broadway today in order to get into the United States customs house and file their income tax reports. It was estimated that the government would collect $10,000,000 from New Yorkers earning taxable incomes.

A special corps of cleaners swept a lane down the middle of Broad street and business was transacted between two snowbanks.

On the cotton exchange only 1,200 bales changed hands at the opening. Cotton brokers reported almost a complete interruption of wire service to southern points. All in all, the storm was the most severe in its effect on general business in the financial district since the memorable blizzard of 1888.

More than 2,500 men, women and children sought shelter in the municipal lodging house. Thousands of other homeless persons were cared for in the lodging houses and mission houses along the Bowery and the lower East side.

There was a general movement on foot today to have the churches in the city thrown open to the poor.

Storm Spends Itself.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The storm which gripped the east during the last 24 hours paralyzed traffic, demolishing telegraph and telephone lines and causing tremendous losses was reported tonight to be off Boston, Mass., and rapidly passing out to sea. Moderate temperatures with abated winds are promised by the weather bureau for tomorrow.

Reports received at the bureau tonight indicate that with the exception of light snows in New York, Pennsylvania, New England, West Virginia and western Maryland conditions are gradually becoming normal.

Tomorrow's forecast for the eastern and middle western states was "clear weather and moderate temperatures." In New England however, the reports indicated the temperatures would remain low with a gradual upward movement.

The winds which swept New York last night with an 80-mile gale tonight had dropped to 26 miles and were diminishing elsewhere along the coast.

Train schedules between Washington and New York were still suspended tonight. Railroad officials here said it would be several days before regular schedules will again be effective. One train from New York, due at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, arrived here this afternoon at 4:20.

Steamer Ashore.

NORFOLK, Va., March 2.—While the northwesterly gale sweeping the Virginia and Carolina coast tonight was at its height the Merchants and Miners steamer Howard bound from Newport News for Baltimore with passengers and freight, was driven ashore in Chesapeake bay. At last reports she had not been floated, but her position was said not to be dangerous.

Snow Two Feet Deep.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 2.—Western and central New York were storm-bound today with a snowfall eight inches to two feet. Driven by a high wind the snow drifted, cutting off railroad and trolley traffic and burying roads in the [illegible] that they [illegible]

Woman Freezes to Death.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 2.—Mrs. Mike Sweeney, 32 years old, was found frozen to death today in a sleigh where her companion, Jerry Bartholdi, had left her last night in the storm, while he went for help.

The young woman had become cold and terror stricken over the raging storm. Bartholdi stopped, the horse within 200 yards of shelter and tramped two miles over the mountain for assistance. He was not permitted to make the return trip, because of his exhausted condition.

Wind and Rain at Halifax.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 2.—Halifax was visited by a heavy gale and rain today. The effect of the gale along the coast is believed to have been severe.

Somewhere off the eastern coast of Nova Scotia, the big collier Essington is caught in the ice. She sailed from Yarmouth last week for Louisburg and was due last night.

Thirteen Deaths in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and southern New Jersey are gradually recovering from the effects of the blizzard which raged from early yesterday until nearly nightfall today. Wire communication between this city and New York remains practically at a standstill, but railroad traffic has been reestablished, although on an uncertain scale.

Thirteen deaths due to the storm were reported from this city and nearby sections.

Vice President Marshall arrived at 8 o'clock tonight after being marooned for 14 hours near New Brunswick.

Baltimore Suffers Heavily.

BALTIMORE, March 2. Meager reports tonight from points in Maryland indicate that the loss caused by the wind storm will exceed $500,000, of which $300,000 was suffered by Baltimore. Telegraph and telephone wires are down all over the state, and communication with southern Maryland has been cut off since early Friday.

The passengers on the steamer Howard, bound from Boston to Baltimore, which went ashore off Seven Foot Knoll late today, were brought to this city on a tug.

Floods Not Feared.

BOSTON, March 2.—New England escaped the brunt of the storm which was centered in the vicinity of New York today, although high winds tangled telephone and telegraph wires and heavy rains in the New Hampshire watersheds caused fears of serious floods.

In East Manchester, N. H., boats and canoes were used in one small valley where water covered the first floors of the houses.

With all the New England watersheds buried under the deepest snow in years and the river choked with ice three feet thick, serious floods are expected should the rain and mild weather continue.

Nine May Have Perished.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 2.—Fears that nine lives were lost on the coal-laden barges Frank Pendleton and Josephus, which were torn loose from a tug off Nantucket lightship in last night's gale, were expressed tonight. The tow was bound to this city from Norfolk.

Captain Partridge of the tug reported that the barges were quickly swept out of sight after the hawsers parted.

Arlington and Eiffel Towers Stations Talk to London by Wireless

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A wireless message to London via the great naval towers at Arlington and the Eiffel tower at Paris, informed the British foreign office tonight that dispatches from the embassy here should be relayed for a day or two on account of damage done to telegraph systems in New York by the storm. Ambassador Sir Cecil Spring-Rice was tendered the use of the naval wireless by Secretary Daniels.

Purified Blood SOLVES Most of Sickness Problems

People who have been poulticing and anointing for years and years marvel at the way S. S. S. does the work.

When you come to realise that the skin and flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.

There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood stream just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

Thousands know it to be really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the "medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food," said a well-known physician.

completed," Secretary Bryan said. It was his only comment.

Administration officials realize that in not communicating first with Carranza they have offended his personal dignity and they hope to overcome this by consulting him now, impressing upon the Constitutionalist chief incidentally that the American government does not think formalities ought to stand in the way of obtaining proper protection for foreigners.

Foreign Diplomats Call.

General Carranza's declaration that foreign governments should address him about the welfare of their subjects left to a visit to Secretary Bryan today by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, and Senor Riano, the Spanish ambassador. Both Spain and Great Britain have recognized the Huerta government and have been looking to the United States to act for them in northern Mexico. There is every indication that this course will be continued and it is clearly established that Carranza's manouver will not lead the British government into any recognition or any other dealings with him.

President Wilson explained to callers that many foreign governments had desired the United States to look after the subjects but of course had no right to demand it and were not demanding it. Strictly speaking, Carranza might insist on his right not to deal with one government in the interests of another, but such a situation undoubtedly would produce grave complications with the United States government upon which the powers of the world have learned to look as the dominant factor in pan-american diplomacy.

Carranza Recognized Chief.

General Villa's acknowledgement of General Carranza as his superior authority has cleared up all doubt here as to who is chief of the Constitutionalist movement. Hereafter, as General Carranza requests, international questions will be taken up with him. He also will be called to account for all harm to foreigners.

Incidentally, General Villa's deference to Carranza as the head of the Constitutionalists was obtained in a message from American Consul Letcher. It cleared some of the points in the mystery which for a time surrounded the halting of the investigating commission at Juarez yesterday. While fundamentally it was Carranza's attitude which delayed the departure of the commissioners, it was explained by officials here that the receipt of instructions from the state department to postpone their mission was coincident with the failure of the commission to obtain a permit to board the regular passenger train for Chihuahua, controlled by the rebels.

No Train Available.

Arrangements had been made according to official here for the commission to take a special train, but it was found that there was no rolling stock available and the commission sought permission then to board the regular train. This was denied, pending an exchange of messages with General Villa at Chihuahua, and when orders came not to permit the commission to take the regular train, instructions already had been received from Washington postponing the expedition.

Sir Edward Grey's expected statement to the house of commons is awaited here with much interest as it is felt by many he will show just how far Great Britain expects reparation for the Benton killing at this time. Tomorrow, Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico, will discuss Mexican affairs with President Wilson, bringing him the latest information about the situation in Mexico City.

Huerta Message Arrives.

Just as President Wilson had decided that the note which Huerta had addressed several days ago to all foreign governments was designed for home and foreign consumption without presentation to the United States, the belated document was handed to Secretary Bryan by Charge Algers of the Mexican embassy. Its text which has been published, sets forth that in view of the Benton case the American government ought to revoke the right recently extended to the Constitutionalists to buy arms in the United States. It is not considered that any answer will be returned.

Secretary Bryan announced he would appear before the house committee on foreign affairs on Wednesday. He had intended doing so today. A tacit agreement has been reached that the resolution of Representative Ainey, Republican, calling him for information on Mexican affairs would not be pressed until the secretary of state has had an opportunity to talk with the committee. Mr. Ainey today issued a statement attacking what he described as the administration's policy as drifting into war and denouncing Villa and Carranza.

Commissioners Resting.

EL PASO, Tex., March 2.—The Benton investigation commission rested on the diplomatic side track here today while Washington officials and Venustiano Carranza were reported to be considering the new phase of negotiations through an American consul.

George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department, left here tonight to visit Carranza. His mission is said to be a discussion of the general situation with regard to foreigners rather than to hold specific conferences over the Benton problem.

Marion Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, arrived here today with the expectation of taking the commission back to Chihuahua with him.

and was surprised to learn that the investigators-elect intended to start yesterday but were halted by rebel orders said to have come from Carranza.

Letcher Visits El Paso.

Mr. Letcher, a square-jawed, bright-eyed young man surveyed the situation from his side track, reported to Washington and then, succumbing to urgent invitations from El Paso friends, went across the river to see the races and forget affairs of state.

Calm and peace also were evident in the office of Zach L. Cobb, collector of customs and emergency diplomat.

Uncertainty of wire communication with Washington, the fact that this is a state holiday and evidence that Carranza and Secretary Bryan were handling things themselves contributed to the tranquillity. Carothers wrote some personal letters and General Hugh L. Scott dropped in. They just chatted, they said.

The refugee colony remained in a state of anxiety, wondering what the sudden calm meant until newspaper dispatches from Washington were published in the afternoon and the suspense was relieved.

Word from Madera, the big lumber town in western Chihuahua, brought news of a nonpolitical murder of which J. J. Harmon, a watchman for the Madera company, Ltd., was the victim. He was slain with an ax alleged to have been wielded by Miguel Alvarez, a Mexican telegraph operator, whose mother was Harmon's housekeeper. Mother and son were arrested. The crime occurred a week ago.

day, Representatives Byrnes, Sutherland and Evans made a personal inspection of the inside of a coal mine. They spent about an hour in the underground workings of the Delagua mine, the largest producing property in Colorado.

The three congressmen were accompanied by two interpreters, whose combined powers sufficed to negotiate the 15 or 20 languages spoken by the Delagua miners, and by a reporter for the Associated Press. The now peaceful "death special," divested of its steel plate armor and with no machine guns frowning from its tonneau, carried the party up the Ludlow road, through the district where a few months ago the appearance of the mine owners' flying automobile was a signal for alarm and even bloodshed. But today only cheers greeted the powerful machine as it raced past the Ludlow tent colony and into Hastings canon.

Don Miners' Outfit.

Arrived at the mine office the whole party was taken to the company store, where Superintendent R. W. Snodgrass assisted in fitting out the statesmen in bib overalls, jumpers and miners' caps with lamps on the fronts. Then the party returned to the office where each man was given a brass identification check with a number corresponding to his name, carefully preserved at the office. With the checks in the pockets of their blue overalls the congressmen were led into the mouth of the very mine in which in 1910 an explosion killed scores of miners.

"How much coal do you think you can get out?" quizzed a mine official.

"Better get a few extra cars up to the mine," retorted a congressman. "We'll have the coal coming out in a few minutes."

With no light but that from the torches on each man's cap the party trudged down the long slant entry with Snodgrass in the lead. At times the roof was too low to permit the shortest man in the crowd to stand erect. Congressional backs were bent and congressional heads bowed as congressional feet plodded over the ties of the tram track.

Miner Curses Congressman.

After some time the party reached the rooms where the miners were working. At one place the congressmen were roundly cursed in unchaste Spanish by a Mexican miner. [illegible] not know who the visitors were or wanted to know what those [illegible] described fellows were doing there to bother him for.

The congressmen interviewed a number of the men asking them searching questions regarding working conditions. Most of the miners interviewed professed to be content with their condition. None would admit that he wanted to leave, nor would any one say that he ever had tried to get away and been restrained by mine guards or militiamen.

On the way out, the congressmen were loaded into two empty coal cars on the electric tram track. Huddled on the coal-littered floor, they ducked their heads to avoid roof timbers and electric wires as the cars jolted rapidly from the cross entry into the main entry and toward the distant daylight.

Accosted by Inspector.

At one point the tram train was met by a company mine inspector. He took one look at the grimy statesmen in overalls, sprawled on the bottom of the cars and his face turned pale. "How many are hurt?" he shouted to Superintendent Snodgrass.

For, be it known, one of the safety regulations laid down by W. J. Murray, general superintendent of the Victor-American, is "that no man, unless he is dead or seriously injured, shall be permitted to ride in a coal car. And the regulations prescribed by "Bill" Murray have a way of getting themselves obeyed. An explanation somewhat mollified the inspector, but he decined an invitation to join the subterranean joy ride. "I make it a point never to violate the rules I expect others to obey," he explained.

Emerging from the mine, the congressmen returned to Trinidad. In the meantime, Dr. Foster, the chairman, had paid a visit to the county jail where he interviewed several of the military prisoners held at the order of the militia. He took no testimony from any of them.

18-YEAR-OLD BOY HELD FOR MANNERICH DEATH

DECATUR, Ill., March 2.—"If anything happens to me, see John Baucom."

This note, found on the body of F. W. Mannerich who was killed in his home at Sullivan, Ill., by a bomb he had received by mail, resulted in the arrest today of Baucom, who is 18 years old. The coroner's jury had recommended that the youth, who is said to have assaulted Mannerich last week following a quarrel, be held to the grand jury, pending an investigation of the tragedy.

United States postal inspectors are also investigating a charge that a friend of Mannerich's wife, from whom he was separated, may be implicated.

It has been shown that a man in Springfield has been writing unsigned letters to Mannerich and that a woman in Sullivan has been writing unsigned letters to Mrs. Mannerich who is living in Springfield.

INDICTMENT AGAINST FOWLER IS DISMISSED

NEW YORK, March 2.—The indictment charging Everett P. Fowler, the so-called Tammany "bagman," with extortion was dismissed today by Supreme Court Justice Vernon M. Davis. Fowler, it was charged, obtained a political contribution of $10 from Seneca P. Hull of Cortland, N. Y., who was competing for state highway contracts.

"Hen Trust" to Strike Blow at Living Cost, Predict Poultry Men

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—Oriental and European hens have combined to deal with the high cost of living in America a real blow. This was the opinion of dealers attending the sixth annual meeting of the Missouri Egg Shippers association. Speakers predicted the prices of eggs would never again reach the high figures that inspired the recent boycotts in all parts of the nation.

Thousands of cases of eggs are coming into New York from Siberia, Austria and Russia, it was declared.

DAILY CHRONICLE SEES COMPROMISE HOME RULE BILL

LONDON, March 3 (Tuesday).—Commenting on Premier Asquith's promise to introduce the Irish home rule bill for the last time with a statement of what concessions the government is inclined to make to Ulster, the Daily Chronicle says the cabinet will not consent to the dismemberment of Ireland, but will propose that education and lisensing remain under imperial control, as already provided for in the case of the police, for a period of six years.

The newspaper also says that the postoffice will remain under the imperial parliament; that provision will be made for a board of patronage so as to insure that all public appointments will be made on merit, and not on a sectarian basis; that the Ulster members of the Irish parliament will have a right to veto legislation inimical to Ulster's interests, and that northeastern Ulster will be included in the Irish parliament from its inception, but with the right to withdraw from it by a plebiscite in five years.

Should the opposition reject the above offer, the Daily Chronicle says, the government will proceed with the bill on its present lines. Suggestions made afterward will be placed on a separate paper accompanying the bill to the house of lords.

The Chronicle says it is expected that the government will make its offer within a fortnight.

PROGRESSIVES ELECT ENTIRE CITY TICKET IN AUBURN, MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., March 2.—Progressives were successful in Auburn, the only one of the 10 Maine cities holding elections today, in which a straight Progressive ticket was opposed by straight Republican and Democratic tickets. A. W. Fowler was reelected mayor, with a Progressive city council. Democratic mayors were defeated at Bath and at Ellsworth, where Republicans were elected, and at Lewiston, where a fusion of Progressives, Republicans and Citizens was successful. Rockland Democrats upset Republican control.

In the remaining cities there were no upsets, Republicans electing mayors at Eastport, South Portland and Saco. Hallowell and Waterville both elected Democrats.

IMMIGRANTS CAN'T STAND STRESS AND STRAIN OF LIFE IN UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Stress and strain of American life quickly develops latent insanity among immigrants, who become burdens to the states in which they live, according to statements before the senate immigration committee today by medical officers from New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland, who urged radical amendment of the pending immigration bill.

The committee took under advisement a series of amendments offered by Lewis R. Parker, special counsel for the commission on alien insane of New York. Mr. Parker was supported by Dr. Thomas R. Salmon of the public health service, in urging that "persons with constitutional psychopathic inferiority," described as the "seed of congenital insanity," be excluded.

The detachment is commanded by Major Enriquez.

NEW YORK POLICE WILL ARREST CHURCH AGITATORS

NEW YORK, March 2.—Police Commissioner McKay announced tonight he would instruct police to arrest all agitators making attempts to hold up church services.

Tonight 200 men who marched in St. Marks Protestant Episcopal church were admitted to the lecture hall where food was given them. They were permitted to stay over night.

GOETHALS CONFERS WITH LANE ON ALASKAN BILL

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Col. George W. Goethals conferred today with Secretary Lane over the building of the government railroad in Alaska.

Conferees on the Alaska railroad bill will meet tomorrow in what they expect to be their final session.

GILL LEADING CHOICE FOR SEATTLE MAYOR

Interesting Municipal Campaign Closes; Election Will Be Held Today

SEATTLE, Wash., March 2.—A city election will be held here tomorrow to choose a mayor, treasurer, comptroller, corporation counsel, five councilmen and 15 freeholders to revise the city charter. The candidates for mayor are Hiram C. Gill, an attorney who was elected in 1910, recalled by the votes of the newly enfranchised women the next year, and defeated when he run again for mayor in 1912, and James D. Tremaine, manager of a Mexican investment company. The campaign nearly parallels that of two years ago when opponents to Gill were able to rally the women voters and the reform forces generally against Gill, and elected Cotterill by 714 majority.

The cry has been made that to reelect the once recalled Gill would disgrace the city before the whole world. Two years ago Cotterill fell heir to a large share of the Socialist vote, the Socialist candidate, having been eliminated in the primary. This year the Socialists, when they vote at all, will cast no ballot for mayor, but only for their candidates for corporation counsel, treasurer and comptroller, who were not eliminated by the primary.

The Gill forces are extremely confident, and declare that they will get the union labor vote and the votes of many women. Betting is strongly in favor of Gill, but that fact signifies nothing except that betting men like him, for he was a strong favorite on the two occasions when he was defeated. There is no likelihood of any of the Socialist candidates for office being elected. They got into the finals because they were practically unopposed for second place.

Returns on Income Tax Schedules Are Filed on Last Day

CHICAGO, March 2.—The last of approximately 28,000 individual income tax schedules which will net the United States government more than $3,000,000 for the first 10 months of 1913, were filed here tonight. The office of the collector of internal revenue was kept open until midnight to give a last chance to escape the penalty which will be imposed tomorrow.

Two women filed their schedules under protest today after being told that they must pay taxes on their alimony.

KENEHAN MAY HAVE TO APPROVE BILLS, HE SAYS

DENVER, March 2.—Roady Kenehan, who recently returned from Trinidad, today said he had not been permitted to make a complete examination of horses purchased by the militia, and admitted that he probably would have to approve the bills presented for them, "whether he wanted to or not." Militia authorities say a few clerical errors which crept into the account were the basis of the state auditor's action.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with Lung Trouble, or if you know some unfortunate person so afflicted, would you take the trouble of fully investigating a medicine which has brought about complete recovery in a number of very serious cases? To Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, has been given the full credit of almost all benefits in a large number of cases. Read this:

1253 Girard Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen:—In the winter of 1903 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful-looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. It was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alterative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My convalescence was marvelous. The first I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well."

the right of the relator to have the funds in the hands of the treasurer, realized and to be realized from the revenues for the fiscal year beginning April, 1913, applied to the payment of such warrants, and claims the right to use such funds to discharge warrants drawn to meet current expenses for that period.

The decision cites section 668 of the revised statutes of 1908, granting the right of cities and towns to appropriate money for specific purposes and setting forth that no further appropriation shall be made without election by the people.

"Pay as You Go" Policy.

Citing the next section immediately following, the court set forth that the city had no right to add to the municipal expenditure anything above the amount provided for in the annual appropriation, and that all improvement expenditures must not be paid out of the general fund unless so provided specifically.

"The purpose of these statutes," says the opinion, "is to require municipalities to adopt the policy, 'Pay as you go.'"

The court held that the city is required to draw warrants on the fund of a particular fiscal year and that they must be paid in the order of registration out of the funds of that year applicable to that specific purpose. Consequently, the court declared that the relator was not entitled to have funds realized from revenues for the fiscal year beginning April, 1913, applied upon his warrants for which no appropriation had been specified.

Other Opinions.

Other opinions by the supreme court included: Frank E. Hodgkins, plaintiff in error, vs. Florence B. Ashby, administrator from El Paso county; judgment affirmed.

The Colorado Leasing, Mining & Milling company, plaintiff in error, vs. the Palatine Insurance company, Ltd., from Fremont county; reversed and remanded.

The board of county commissioners of Otero county, appellant, vs. the Otero Irrigation district, from Otero county; judgment affirmed.

The court denied a rehearing in the case entitled the Board of Equalization vs. the Rimetallic Investment company. This was a supplementary case to the tax case brought by C. J. Pitcher, assessor of Denver county, in which the court previously had decided in favor of the tax commission and the state board of equalization.

Ouray-San Juan Case Sent Back.

DENVER, March 2.—The state supreme court today sent back to the lower court for retrial the boundary dispute between Ouray and San Juan counties with instructions that it be tried in the court of either county but that an outside judge be called in to preside. The point involved is where Mineral creek joins the Uncompahgre river, the contentions of the two counties being based on two different points of juncture. The case was appealed from the district court of San Juan county where a decision had been rendered in favor of that county which overturned the boundary as surveyed by State Engineer Jayrow in 1908. The disputed territory contains considerable valuable mineral land.

Dog Taxes Legal.

DENVER, March 2.—The right of a municipality to fix and collect a tax on dogs was upheld by the state supreme court in the case Duncan McPhail of Denver had carried up through the justice, county and district courts to the highest tribunal of the state. In each court the findings were against McPhail, who previously had announced that he would "rot in jail before he would pay." There were 12 typewritten pages in the court's opinion. McPhail was in court today. He gave no intimation as to whether he would comply with the court's order.

Mexicans Arrested for Cutting Scrape

Three Mexicans, Sam Lopez, C. Gonzales and P. Gonzales, were arrested in Roswell yesterday morning by the local police after Anna Sasco had been slashed with a razor by a Mexican with whom she has been living for several weeks. None of the Mexicans arrested turned out to be the Sanchez woman's assailant, whose name is supposed to be Francisco Sevilla. P. Gonzales had a long hunting knife and a razor in his pockets and is being held for investigation. The other Mexicans were released.

GUARDS WILL PROTECT COL. SHINN'S BOOKS

DENVER, March 2.—Guards are on duty day and night at the office of the state game and fish commissioner to prevent possible forcible seizure of books and records of that department. The men were assigned to guard duty by Col. James A. Shinn, who holds the position under protest of Gov. E. M. Ammons. Colonel Shinn said today that acting upon rumors that an attempt would be made to seize the books and records of the office, he had decided upon precautionary measures.

by the company in 1891, informing the men that they could obtain redress from higher officials if they were dissatisfied with their treatment. He said many men had come to him with protests during the 12 years he has been general manager. He also said that the miners understood that they could appeal to him silently or through a committee and that it would not be held against them.

Upholds One-Man Drill.

The witness said that the use of the one-man drill to which many strikers objected was an economic necessity because all competitors were using it. Also because it was necessary to go deeper for rock that yielded only about 20 pounds of copper to the ton.

"It has been stated here that no one-man drills are used in the Montana district," Representative Peterson said. The witness asserted that he had been told by a representative in Butte that 1,500 such drills were used in [illegible]. Experiments with one drills had been so successful, he added, that the companies were considering doing away with the two-man drill altogether.

MacNaughton also said that all the companies are complying with the law requiring miners to work within 100 feet of each other. He said that a miner could call on a foreman or any one else to help in putting up his drill.

Tells of Bonus System.

Explaining the bonus system now in force, MacNaughton said a miner was paid a minimum of $2.25 in the zinc-bearing mines and $3.50 a day in the non-bearing mines, which were harder to work. The pay was based on a fixed tonnage of about two tons a month, a ton of ore costing a ten hour day and for extra work, but no deductions were made if the miner happened to fall below this standard. The mining captain had the discretion to make the minimum $3 a day if he thought the man had loafed on the job.

Speaking of miners habitually failing to meet the required standard, asked by Representative Switzer if it would be [illegible], MacNaughton said: "Some miners can get $4.50 a day and $5.75 a conglomerate day, and also earn bonuses [illegible] work or contract if they [illegible] but [illegible] many of them do."

Moyer to Blame.

BELLEVUE, Mich., March 2.—In opening statement for mine operators, Attorney Allan E. Rees today told the congressional investigating committee he believed that if Charles H. Moyer had united hands with citizens in the name of the dead of the sufferers from the Calumet disaster, the strike would have been settled that day.

Referring to the deportation of the president of the Western Federation of Miners after his refusal to permit the citizens to accept outside aid, Rees said:

"Moyer says he did not know that nothing more would happened to him, as Bishop Williams of the Episcopal church remarked when he heard of the affair. It was evidence of the greatest contempt of law in the [illegible] for you can see what right and [illegible] has if [illegible] that he had men of such restraint to deal with."

Rees said that if the investigation were a judicial proceeding, "the operators would rest because of the lack of any evidence tending to show anything illegal in our conduct."

Reviewing the important points of the strike, Rees said:

"Alien agitators and organizers came into the copper district in 1907 and began sowing the seed of discontent among our employes. They succeeded in doing so among a certain number of them by making a lot of promises impossible of fulfillment. It was known for more than a year that the strike was inevitable in order to carry out the plan of the Western Federation of Miners to obtain recognition of their union, which would mean the total wrecking of our industry, for we could not continue to operate the mines under the conditions that would be imposed by the federation."

Rees said there were three days of rioting and assaults at the start of the strike before Governor Ferris sent the National guard to preserve order. No disorder occurred, he said, until the mines started under the protection of the militiamen. The trains bearing strike-breakers were shot up and stoned and automobiles containing deputies were treated likewise. The attorney said that a considerable number of complaints made by strikers were of things occurring during the week beginning December 7 when Dally and the Jane boys were murdered in their beds at Painesdale.

"It was a very tense week," he said, "for the community was thoroughly aroused by this cold-blooded crime following on the other lawless acts of the strikers."

GANGSTER FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

NEW YORK, March 2.—Dopsie Sheftoni, a gangster, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, capital by a jury which tried him for slaying Probationer Policeman William Hershey, in Mulberry street on the night of March 2, 1912. Charles Teare, another policeman, and John Hizza, a citizen, were killed by shots from a gun [illegible] seconds before to find Hershey. The jury was out 90 minutes. The convicted man is 27 years of age and has five prior convictions to his record. He will be sentenced to death next Friday.

MINISTERIAL CRISIS IN ITALY IMMINENT

Woman Sentences Husband to Rock Pile for a Year

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—Mrs. Sajah Vedgenoff, member of a colony of Russians here, sentenced her husband today to a year on the rock pile. Nicholas Vedgenoff had been arrested on his wife's complaint for failure to provide and appeared to answer in the superior court.

"The wife usually suffers in a case of this kind," said Judge Monroe, "so I will leave it to you, Mrs. Vedgenoff—shall Nicholas have another chance, or shall he go to the rock pile, which would insure you getting $1.50 per day?"

"He fooled me before," promptly declared Mrs. Vedgenoff. "Let him go to the rock pile."

And Judge Monroe sent him there for a year.

Roy Scott in Trouble With the Police Again

Charged with permitting intoxicating liquors to be drunk in his place of business, Roy Scott, colored, proprietor of a restaurant on Huerfano street, will be tried in police court this morning. Scott was arrested last night and ordered to appear in court.

The police allege that two young women and two men, all colored, were found in the resort last night, drinking beer. The two couples were also placed under arrest and expressed willingness to testify against Scott.

Scott, according to the police, has been a trouble maker for several weeks. A few days ago three boys who had stolen some chickens are said to have sold the stolen fowls to Scott. Scott is under $500 bond in Justice Dunnington's court on a charge of assault.

MEXICO

THE Telegraph appears to be concerned because The Gazette has expressed disgust with the "watchful waiting" policy of the administration in the Mexican affair. It sarcastically observes that we should tell Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan the right thing to do.

As we understand the case, an American resident abroad is presumed to have certain rights so long as he retains his American citizenship—rights in which he will receive the support and protection of his government. True, he is expected to conform to the laws of the country in which he is domiciled; nevertheless his life and his property are entitled to the protection of the American flag.

This is true of the subjects and citizens of other nations, it is especially true of British subjects. In the remotest corners of the world a British subject expects, and actually receives, the protection of his government insofar as right and justice entitle him to it. But while Americans domiciled in Mexico and other Latin countries expect such protection they most emphatically do not receive it. The fact is that the pretense of such protection is a ghastly joke. In every South American revolution, and in other quarters of the globe where governments are unstable, Americans are often compelled to place themselves under the protection of a British consul. The fact is a disgrace to America, but it is a fact nevertheless, and it has happened so often that it is the conventional thing.

* * * * *

If the cat may look at the king, then, we accept the Telegraph's suggestion, and offer Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan this bit of advice: use the military and naval forces of the United States, which are now scattered along the Rio Grande river and the Mexican coast to protect American life and property. Under assurances of protection from their government American citizens have gone to Mexico by the thousands in the last quarter century and invested there approximately one billion dollars. They are not adventurers or vagabonds, many of them are mining and civil engineers, educated, capable men and patriotic Americans. Yet for three years past they have been robbed and plundered by one bandit leader after another; they have been blackmailed, imprisoned, and some of them have been murdered. And the American government has stood by and watched the performance with an indifference which has fully justified the contempt of Mexicans of all classes.

Throughout Mexico today they sneer at America and at the American flag. They know that we are a great and powerful nation and that we could sweep their land from one end to the other if we actually made up our minds to do it. But they say we are afraid to spend the money, that we think more of the dollar than of the lives of our countrymen, more, even than we do of national honor.

When the life of an American citizen is sacrificed, or his rights violated, why should not Mr. Wilson land a force of marines from an American battleship and exact reparation from whoever is responsible? Other nations do it, and their authority is respected. We don't do it and our "authority" is therefore held in contempt.

AID FOR THE FARMER

OF ALL classes of the population the farmers are probably asked to do more for the politicians, and receive less in return, than any other. Probably three-fourths of the congressmen are elected from districts controlled by the rural vote. When the campaign is in progress the candidate promises much but his post-election performance is usually small.

The pronounced favor which the farmers as a class ever received from Congress was the rural free delivery service but that was fifteen years ago. True the Agricultural Department has been active and useful, but it is only beginning to realize its full opportunities. The good roads legislation which has already passed the House and probably will become law, will be another great benefit to the farmers—or else it will be converted into a pork barrel.

For a long time there has been agitation for legislation whereby farmers could enjoy greater banking privileges. Although farming is perhaps the greatest industry in the country today, it is harder for the average farmer to borrow money than it is for a business man with much smaller resources. This problem has been worked out in several European countries by the establishment of a system of rural credits under governmental auspices, and the consequent benefits are said to have greatly stimulated the industry.

* * * * *

The conditions which apply to farming in the United States are so different from those of Europe that the system which has been successful there could not be adopted here without change. The problem which the committees of the House and Senate are now studying is that of working out a practicable plan whereby the best of the European method can be enacted into law.

It is interesting to note that Mr. John Lennox of this city is now in Washington to place before the House Committee on Rural Credits the information which he has obtained in his work here in furtherance of dry farming. Insofar as the problems peculiar to farming in the semi-arid sections of the West are concerned Mr. Lennox is probably better informed than any other man in Colorado. His tireless activity as chairman of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce is chiefly responsible for the renewed interest which within the last two or three years has caused an extraordinary development of the region just east of this city. It should be a matter of general satisfaction that he has been called to Washington to have a part in the making of such important legislation.

MAKING AMERICAN CITIZENS

NATURALIZATION day in the circuit court always provides an interesting and instructive spectacle especially instructive to those who believe that any sort of material whatever is good enough for the making of an American citizen. Most of the people who are naturalized here have been in the country for several years and presumably are better acquainted with American institutions and better fitted to assume the responsibilities of citizenship than the newly arrived immigrant in Eastern states. But on examination a surprisingly large number of them are found to be more ignorant of the subjects concerned than the average American child of six or eight years.

For instance, here are some of the replies made by an Austrian who was granted his final papers in the circuit court yesterday:

'Mr Wilson is the head officer. He is either senator or king. I don't know which.

Mr Ammons makes the laws for Colorado. Part of them are made by the county commissioners.'

'Mr. Judge (looking toward Judge J. W. Sheafor) has charge of the affairs of the county.'

After all, though, this man made a fairly good showing; his answers are not nearly as bad as those usually made by the lower class of aliens. In every naturalization court immigrants are constantly displaying their familiarity with American institutions by saying that Wilson, or Roosevelt, or somebody else, is king of the United States. Perhaps they could be forgiven ignorance of the framework of our government if they had any conception of the responsibility of citizenship as expressed in the use of the ballot, for it is through such use that they are most likely to make their influence felt. But the truth is that most of them do not know, and never make an effort to learn, who or what they vote for or why they do it. they simply vote as they are told by their political leader.

The railroads and other great industrial organizations which require great numbers of cheap laborers are, of course, strongly in favor of unrestricted immigration, and they are reinforced by a great many sentimental people who believe that because this is a free country it should be made the dumping ground for all of the elements which other nations find undesirable. It would be absurd to deny the tremendous benefits which immigration has brought to the United States and to the immigrants themselves, but it is equally absurd to assume that all who come should be welcomed with open arms and converted into American citizens regardless of obvious unfitness.

THE SINGLE TAX.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In answer to "Taxpayer's" protest against the increase in taxation he was earnestly urged the writer to seek information that would set him right but he comes back in a letter in last Sunday's Gazette which shows him to be as hopelessly muddled as ever and he persists in laying the entire fault of our elected officials.

The trouble is not there. Our city officials are as capable as men earnestly trying to do the best they can. It is we are imposing totally impossible conditions upon them and rumor has it that one or two of them are seeing the light as to the purpose of the single tax.

This is a very old fallacy that of electing men to office who are merely good and expecting them to deliver a very high class result when working under vicious economic conditions.

Even were such petty economies as "Taxpayer" suggests possible they are not to be desired and working in that direction would not be done. He can be sure that the relief to be had as an individual would not buy for a decent meal in a dish of noodles.

Even were we in our search for "better" men to select our commissioners from the "ministerial association," or looking for more competence to adopt the city manager plan (which I hope we will) we still would be unable to collect a dollar more without increasing the taxation on the things that ought not to be taxed at all. The system must be changed before relief may be expected.

To answer "Taxpayer" further, it is emphasized that the single tax is not advocated as a panacea for all municipal ills," but its advocates do claim that it will produce a revenue ample for the expense of government from a source to which all individuals as such contribute equally. If "Taxpayer" will but look into the subject and lay aside his thoughtless prejudice he will find that under the single tax the burden will not rest upon the small home owner as he pretends to think it will.

As to our other critic, signing himself W. J. upon the same date who maintains that the present system of taxation is the fairest and most equitable that human society has been able to create," words utterly fail in attempting an answer.

One can only wonder as to what particular brand of economic chloroform has produced such a stupor.

PONDEROUS PERSONAGES

LOUIS THE SIXTEENTH

BY GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Louis the Sixteenth, one of the most famous goats of all history, was king of France from the year 1675 until 1792 when he was fired from the job by the people of France in mobs assembled. The following year he was beheaded, by which means the people are supposed to have gotten even with his ancestors.

Louis was the son of Louis XV, who is popularly supposed to have been a compendium of all villainies and a descendant of a long line of Louises who were in general much harder on the population than smallpox would have been. Louis XVI was an amiable young man distinguished by his good nature, kind heart and low-sloping forehead. If he had not been king, he would have made a fairly accomplished potato peeler, or locksmith. There is reason to suppose that he would have preferred the latter. However, as the king job had been wished on him, he did his best with it, married a haughty princess picked out for him from simple pictures, and occupied himself with hunting. This was from motives of the purest patriotism for if Louis had tried to run the country he would have skidded on the first turn. He wasn't even able to run his wife.

Louis was a great relief from his father who had a great habit of filling up the dungeons with citizens and then losing his notes regarding the same. But he came too late. There was a general feeling about France that kings were superfluous and in 1789, the people rose and began to exterminate royalty in a methodical, though messy manner.

Louis watched proceedings with great sadness and immense dignity, and when he was told to get his hat, turn in his tools and call for his pay check he did so with a politeness which endeared him to many. About this time he conceived the idea of retiring to some more healthy clime to, but was discovered after having bumped over 100 miles of bottomless roads and filed away in prison.

In 1793 Louis was tried for treason. He could not have produced treason any more than he could have written essays on jurisprudence, but as it was impossible to execute his father, grandfather and great-grandfather, they having prudently died long before, it was felt that he was the best available substitute. He was therefore beheaded. The sad fate of Louis XVI teaches us no lesson except to abstain rigorously from being a descendant of the old French kings.

SPRINGS WOMAN HAS FAITH IN RADIUM

Mrs. Rofinot Returns From Baltimore, Where She Underwent Treatment

Mrs. Katherine Rofinot, a teacher at Liller school, has returned from Baltimore, where she underwent the radium treatment for cancer at the Johns Hopkins institute. Mrs. Rofinot will return to the east for another treatment provided the cancer has not been completely cured within six weeks. However, she is confident that she is completely well. She was at the institute one week and took only one treatment, lasting several hours.

"The radium cure is simply marvelous," Mrs. Rofinot said yesterday in talking of the treatment and her own case. Mrs. Rofinot, by the way, is the first resident of Colorado Springs to take the cure. "The sanatorium is crowded and really has more applicants for treatment than can be cured for.

"In the treatment for cancer the radium is applied in lead tubes, the size of the tubes varying in length from one-half inch to 2½ inches, depending on the nature of the case. The amount of thte mineral used also depends on the case. Only about 825 milligrams were used in treating my case. The treatment lasts from two to 24 hours."

Mr. Jordan is associated with other Denver men and it is their intention to construct a sanatorium and hotel on the site of the well should hot water be encountered in sufficient quantities to justify such a venture. According to experts, there is every indication that hot water does exist beneath the surface at this point. If such proves the case the Pikes Peak region will have another attraction added to its already long list.

Dentists to Take Up Free Clinic at Meeting Tonight

The matter of a free dental clinic for the city schools will probably be definitely determined tonight at a meeting of the El Paso County Dental society, to be held at the Acacia hotel. Members of the profession recently announced that they would offer their services for such a clinic, the school board announced that the room was ready and only the equipment was lacking. Several of those interested in the proposition have been working to secure the equipment and it is believed that at tonight's meeting more definite plans for the clinic will be announced.

At the meeting tonight Dr. A. L. Sellenberger will address the meeting on the subject of "The Relation of Diseases of the Nose to the Teeth."

SPRINGS MINING MEN ARE AFFECTED BY COURT RULE

Decision May Cause Revision of Assessments Caused by New State Law

Colorado Springs mining men are interested in a decision handed down by the supreme court yesterday. As result of the decision, several mining counties whose assessors and commissioners have interpreted the gross proceeds of a mine under the old mining tax statute to mean the total mineral value of the ore extracted, may be obliged to revise the assessments for several years.

The decision sustained the decision previously rendered against S. C. Paxson, Teller county assessor, in his suit against the Crescent Consolidated Gold Mining and Milling company. The Crescent company was the original victor in the Teller county case, but on the county's appeal the judgment of District Judge J. S. Sheafor was reversed. Yesterday's decision was on a rehearing which was granted and sets aside the previous opinion, affirming the district court in upholding the company's contentions.

In the meantime the 1913 legislature passed a new statute on the taxing of mines and this will involve a new case to be filed against the county by the company in a few days. The county interpreted the old statute, providing that the assessed valuation of the mine should consist of one-fourth the gross output except when the new output exceeded one-fourth of the gross, to mean that the gross output meant the total mineral value of all ores taken out, and taxed accordingly, as did other counties.

The company brought suit contending that the gross proceeds meant only the amount received by the company from the sale of its ores produced, and that the transportation and treatment of the ores should be deducted from the gross assay value.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial asthma.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It mixes perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every hour, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is one of the most valuable concentrated compounds of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

The prompt results from this mixture have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan is imitated often, but never equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SHIPLEY NOT SUSPENDED, DECLARES COL. GOETHALS

Still Chief Clerk in Subsistence Department of Canal Commission

WASHINGTON, [illegible] 2.—Inquiry today of Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman of the Panama canal commission, who is now here, establishes that dispatches dated Panama on or about February 9, last, stating that W. F. Shipley, chief clerk of the subsistence department, had been suspended on grounds of incompetence were erroneous. Colonel Goethals says Mr. Shipley was not suspended at that time or at any time since.

He also speaks of Mr. Shipley as an entirely competent official, and says he is now satisfactorily discharging the important duties of chief clerk of the subsistence department of the canal. It appears that Mr. Shipley had spoken of resigning in order to accept a business position which had been offered to him and this may have given rise to the other statements in reference to him.

Colonel Goethals also entirely exonerates Mr. Shipley from any connection with the alleged transactions which led to the suspension of John Burk, manager of the commissary committee.

Woodmen of World to Start Campaign to Get State Meeting for C. S.

A big social for members and their families is being planned for March 17 by the three local camps of the Woodmen of the World, Colorado City Camp No. 495, Colorado Springs Camp No. 416 and Pikes Peak Camp No. 5. The object of the affair will be to raise enthusiasm for a movement to land the state log rolling to be held by the Woodmen of the World lodge this coming May. At present Denver is making a strong bid for this big meeting but the local Woodmen believe that the scenic advantages of this region are so many that when presented to the head lodge authorities in the proper way they cannot help but designate this city as the place for the log rolling.

WATCH OUT FOR POOR SEED, SAYS R. I. AGRICULTURIST

Condition of Corn Seed Is Bad and Farmers Are Warned to Be Careful

Through the banks of the middle west the agricultural commissioner of the Rock Island lines has sent out circulars to farmers warning them of the poor condition of farm seeds, particularly corn, in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. The banks have been requested to supply all of their clients in the agricultural districts with the circulars. The information sent out is as follows:

The condition of the farm seeds is bad. There is little good seed in southern Nebraska, in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma or northern Texas. Corn raised in 1913 in Kansas and Missouri is generally unsafe to plant and much of the 1912 crop shows weak germination. Thousands of bushels of kafir corn were allowed to rot in shock and stack and there is not enough good kafir seed to supply pressing needs. There is a shortage of milo. Cotton seed is more scarce in Oklahoma than any other seed. Spanish peanut seed is so scarce that not over half the usual acreage can be planted.

A search for good seed should be made at once in every county. Some of the crop of 1912 may do to plant. Often a crop matured in 1913 on a field of bottom land or on a field that had a shower at the right time. Farmers and business men should join in finding sufficient good seed and informing those who need seed, where they can get it.

Every man who expects to plant seed this year should arrange for good seed now.

The nearer good seed has been grown to the field where it is to be planted, the better will be the yield. Secure seed grown in your own county if possible; if not, then get seed grown in your part of the state. Never plant seed grown farther south than your farm. In Iowa, seed corn secured from another county yielded 12 bushels an acre less than home grown seed. In Nebraska choice seed from another state yielded nine bushels of corn an acre less than home grown seed. In Texas home grown seed corn yielded 17 bushels an acre more than good seed from outside the state.

We urge all who receive seed circulars to give them prominence in some public place, and to secure the cooperation of local newspapers, schools, commercial clubs, and other organizations. We believe that all who gave attention to this matter last year and two years ago feel fully repaid for their time and trouble.

QUICK WORK IN LIMIT IMMIGRATION TO U. S.

Would Allow 5 Per Cent of Race Already Naturalized in America

NEW YORK, March 2 Dr Sidney L Gulick a veteran missionary who recently laid before the United States government a radical plan for solving the immigration problem, spoke here today before the League for Political Education His suggestion is that immigration be limited to 5 per cent annually of the members of each race already naturalized in the United States with their American-born children This rate, he points out would permit the entrance of all who might come from north Europe and cut down immigration from south and east Europe and allow only slight immigration from Asia

Dr Gulick is visiting the big cities under an arrangement made by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America to present the views of the missionaries to Japan concerning American relationships with the eastern races

He upheld California's anti-Japanese agitation and declared that if permitted entrance millions of Asiatics would quickly swamp our civilization and defeat the American experiment in democracy

"But" he said "Japan's demands are widely misunderstood" She does not ask free immigration to America, but she deprecates insidious and humiliating anti-Asiatic legislation, however skillfully phrased His fundamental solution of the Asiatic problem was to educate Asia to the western economic and moral standards

"Unless we raise Asia to our level" he declared she will eventually pull us down to hers"

Opera House Has Attractive Bill

While nothing startling or spectacular is offered the vaudeville bill which opened at the Opera house yesterday is attractive and should find favor with patrons of the house today and tomorrow Yesterday's audiences were small probably because of the severe storm but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm the performers being forced to respond to as many encores as they would had the theater been packed

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman I cannot praise your medicine too highly"—Mrs AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations

PASSING OF CROLL'S GARDENS REVIVES OLD FIGHTING MEMORIES

Famous Frisco Training Place Torn Down; All the Champs Stayed There

Bill Naughton Spins Some Good Yarns About Boxing Fraternity

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Who has not heard of Croll's gardens, Alameda, in its day, the most popular training camp for pugilists within a score of miles of San Francisco?

The place referred to had vogue, however, before it was known as Crolls. It was called Neptune gardens 20 years ago, and it was a favorite Sunday lounging place for people from the San Francisco side of the bay.

There were skating rinks, shooting galleries, dancing pavilions, and what not attached to it in those years and not the least of its attractions was the ice cold beer that was drawn in steins from a thousand kegs.

The Alameda folks resented the idea of catering to San Francisco's Sunday thirst and love of frivolity and by a vote, or church wardens or something, Neptune Gardens was doomed.

Down through the years the buildings and the fountains and the statuary disappeared piece-meal and Croll's hold just in time to have a few stables and a garish structure, all peaks and angles, known as The Wigwam.

Revives Memories.

A few days ago, a crew of carpenters was busy dismantling the Wigwam and when the old line sports heard of the fact, pugilistic memories of the long ago were revived. Why, fight fans of several generations have crowded into that Wigwam from time to time to watch champion ring men prepare themselves for ring struggles that are famous in the history of the game.

By the same token, many of the stars of the boxing arena who trained in the Wigwam have passed to the beyond. Let me recall a few of the names—Jack Dempsey, Tommy Warren, Paddy Duffy, Peter Jackson, Joe Gans and Joe Dixon.

The writer was one of those who had old recollections called by the razing of the Wigwam. I saw Tommy Ryan train there for his match with [illegible] baths for several hours on the day of the bout. Poor Jack had nothing left but his nerve when he toed the scratch and that did not save him from a merciless pounding.

Just as far back in the abysm of time, I saw Paddy Duffy of Boston train at the Wigwam for a go with Tom Meadows of Australia, one of the gay welters the world ever saw.

Starved Himself.

Meadows was a peculiar fellow. He left the boxing ring as a billiard champion knows a green table, but there were oddles of things he didn't know. He had to make weight for Duffy and he decided the best way to accelerate reduction, was to starve himself.

One day over at Joe Diewe's where he trained, he boasted that all he had eaten in 24 hours was an apple.

"You'll be weak," some one remarked.

"Don't you believe it," he answered. "If I can only make the weight, I'll lick him sure."

The apple diet did for Meadows, who after a few rounds was too feeble to keep his arms up. Both Meadows and Duffy are dead now. I saw Mike Conley, the Ithaca giant, train at Croll's for his match with big Joe McAuliffe and I saw Peter Jackson train there for his bout with Jim Jeffries. Jackson was on the down grade then, although he was still as proud as Lucifer and resented any suggestion that he was scarcely the Peter of old.

At settling time up at the Olympic club, Gehe Vancourt, a friend of Jeffries, grabbed Peter's hand and said: "Peter, Jeff told me to give you his best and tell you not to be downcast."

Jackson snorted.

"You tell Jeffries to mind himself," he retorted. "Just let him give me a return match and he will be the one that will be downcast."

Saw Jim Corbett Train.

I saw Jim Corbett train at the old Wigwam for his San Francisco match with Jeffries. Jim, after his Maspeth experiences with Jeffries, figured that what he needed most of all to successfully cope with the "Boilermaker" was weight and muscle.

At Croll's he had his exercise room fitted up like a professional strong man's den. There were giant lifting bars and big weights and all the rest of it but—they did not help Jim.

A funny part of it is that while Corbett was training for brawn Jeffries was training for speed. At Jeff's training quarters when the fight was near he said to the writer: "I want you to watch closely and tell me honestly if I outbox Corbett."

Coming away from the ring he stopped at the press benches and said to me: "Well, did I?"

"You certainly did," I answered.

It was at the Wigwam that Joe Walcott trained when they had to keep him in the boiler-room of the ferry-boat coming across the day of the fight. This was Tom O'Rourke's scheme for removing a reluctant pound of weight and saving his forfeit.

Bob Fitzsimmons trained there for his match with Jeffries and Joe Gans trained there for several matches. George Dixon, Abe Attell, Tommy Ryan, Hugo Kelly and an army of pugilists whose names I cannot just now recall, also pitched camp there.

And now all that remains of the Wigwam are the stump of a chimney and a few splinters of wood painted red and green and yellow.

The life of the varnish will be lengthened indefinitely.

Hoppe Wins First Watch From Yamada in 5-Man Tourney

CHICAGO, March 2.—Willie Hoppe tonight defeated Koji Yamada 500 to 174 in the first match of the five-man 18.2 billiard tournament. The match ran 10 innings, Hoppe having a high run of 156. Yamada's best inning was 91. Hoppe averaged 50 and his opponent 19 3-9.

Hoppe's cleverness in nursing the balls gave him a great advantage over his opponent in the fifth inning when he made 156. This gave him 329 points. Yamada had only 71 points at this stage and to overtake Hoppe's great lead appeared almost hopeless. Score:

Hoppe, 1, 1, 79, 92, 156, 7, 32, 39, 43, 50—500.

Yamada, 3, 2, 40, 21, 5, 0, 12, 91, 0, —174.

George Slosson and Yamada will play Tuesday afternoon.

Ayer First in Dog Race Over 64-Mile Course in Alaska

NOME, Alaska, March 2.—Fred Ayer finished first in the Solomon derby dog race that was run from Nome over the snow trail to Solomon and return today. John Johnson, winner of last year's derby, was a close second with his team of Siberian wolves and finished two minutes after Ayer. The five teams that entered the race started under clear skies from Nome at 10 a. m., but a wind and snow storm that reached the proportions of a blizzard developed as the race progressed and the heavy going destroyed chances of lowering time records of other years. Ayer finished the course of 64 miles in six hours, 30 minutes, four seconds. Johnson's time last year, which fixed the record for the course, was five hours, 47 minutes, 24 seconds.

Other entrants in the race were A. A. (Scotty) Allan, driving a team of Malamutes owned jointly by himself and Mrs. C. E. Darling of Berkeley, Cal.; Fay Delzene, winner of last year's 412-mile all-Alaska sweepstake and driving dogs owned jointly by himself and Russell Bowen and Percy Blatchford.

The Solomon derby is the first of the season's classic dog races. The big race, the all-Alaska sweepstake, will be run in April.

Murphy and Taft in Two-Hour Conference Discuses Cubs' Future

CINCINNATI, O., March 2. Charles W. Murphy of Chicago held a two-hour conference here today with Charles P. Taft, who recently purchased the controlling interest in the Chicago National league club from Murphy. Baseball was under discussion, but neither Taft nor Murphy would announce that anything of a definite nature regarding the future of the Chicago Nationals had happened.

"The business of selling my stock in the Cubs was done by wire, and this is the first time since then that I have seen Mr. Taft," said Murphy. "There is nothing absolutely of news value to give out."

YANKEES BEGIN SPRING TRAINING AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Tex., March 2. The New York American league baseball players, under the direction of Frank Chance, began spring training here today. Chance said he was satisfied with the preliminary outlook for a good team this season.

Lodgepole pine seed sown broadcast on the snow in southern Idaho last spring germinated when the snow melted and as many as 60 little trees were counted to the square foot. The summer was so dry, however, that most of the plants died, except where sheltered by brush or logs.

MILLIONAIRE FROM PITTSBURG TO BACK FEDS CLUB THERE

Christy Mathewson Signs With Giants Before He Receives Feds' $65,000 Offer.

CHICAGO, March 2.—President Gilmore of the Federal league announced tonight that a "Pittsburg millionaire" had decided to become backer of the club there. Stories that Henry C. Frick of Pittsburg had contemplated taking an active part in the national game have been current and although Gilmore would not say Mr. Frick was the man followers of the game here believe he is the "millionaire" mentioned.

It became known that Tom Seaton, the pitcher last year with Philadelphia, would join the Chicago Federals. It was understood that Brooklyn was to get Seaton, but the allotment on Saturday gave him to Tinker's club.

Ground will be broken for the Federal league plant Wednesday.

MATHEWSON

Christy Mathewson, the famous twirler of the New York Nationals, who signed a Giant contract before he received the Federal league offer of $65,000 for three years.

President Weeghman said today. The contractors who bid for the privilege of building the stand all agreed to have it finished by April 21.

Much disappointment was shown by the Federal league managers when it was learned that Christy Mathewson had signed a contract with the Giants and had not waited for their offer of $65,000 for three years, made today in a telegram by President Gilmore.

Mathewson was wanted to manage and pitch on the Brooklyn team, but efforts will be made to get Sam Crawford, while President Gilmore intimated that Fielder Jones, former manager of the Chicago Americans, may be made an offer.

The Kansas City team of the Federal league practically has engaged Leverenz of the St. Louis Americans, it was learned. Leverenz is with the world tourists. He is considered among the topnotchers among the American league left-handers.

Northwestern Wins Class B Title in Shooting Tourney

WASHINGTON, March 2.—With seven straight victories, the Northwestern Military and Naval academy, Highland Park, Ill., has won the Class B championship in the National Military school rifle shooting championship.

In the final match the victors broke the interscholastic record with 989 out of a possible 1,000 points, and a member of the team, E. Alaipe, tied the individual record by making the possible 100 points, standing and prone.

Class A is still led by the Bordentown, N. J., military institute, with only one more match. Summaries:

5 Class A—Bordentown, N. J., 948, vs. St. John's, Delafield, Wis., 919; New York, Cornwall-on-Hudson, 946, vs. Culver, Ind., 907; Kemper, Booneville, Mo., 921, vs. Miami, Germantown, O., 872; New Mexico, Roswell, N. M., 944, vs. St. John's, Manlius, New York, 901; Harvard, Los Angeles, Cal., 906, vs. Hitchcock, San Rafael, Cal., 876.

Referee Says Packey Stalled in His Bout With Britton Dec. 8

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 2. Packey McFarland of Chicago failed to appear before the Wisconsin boxing commission today when the case relative to his suspension for one year for alleged "stalling" in his 10-round boxing bout with Jack Britton in Milwaukee, December 8, came up. Neither was McFarland represented by counsel. After hearing testimony from the referee and several sporting writers, the commission took the case under advisement. Referee Harry Stout told the commission that he warned McFarland at the end of practically every round from the second that he would have to "produce or get out." Stout maintained that McFarland did not put forth his best efforts at any time during the bout and that he "stalled" all the way.

Stout's testimony was supported by several Milwaukee sporting writers

President Taft's Brother, Who Saved the National League

Charles P. Taft, brother of former President Taft, has saved the National league in its most dangerous crisis in many years by purchasing the interest of Charles W. Murphy in the Cubs of Chicago. Thus Murphy, to whom most of the National league club owners and many in the American league objected on the ground that he was a disturber in organized baseball, was quickly eliminated.

Mr. Taft already owned a large share of the Cubs, having staked Murphy to buy the club many years ago. Murphy himself has said his own share was 53 per cent, and that Mr. Taft paid him on a basis of a value of more than $1,000,000 for all the stock.

Start Campaign for Funds for American 1916 Olympic Team

NEW YORK, March 2.—Plans for the collection of a large Amateur Athletic union fund for the American Olympic team of 1916 were outlined today at a conference between President Andrew J. Lall, Jr., and Secretary James E. Sullivan of the A. A. U. It was decided to open the campaign with a circular letter to each club and allied organizations requesting the assessment of a given sum on each member of such club toward the support of athletes who will represent this nation at Berlin two years hence. The Amateur Athletic officials hope to raise $100,000 from within their own ranks during the next 18 months by means of a persistent subscription campaign. The cooperation of the public schools, athletic leagues, recreation and playgrounds associations, also will be enlisted. It is hoped that the children enrolled in these organizations throughout the country can be enlisted to contribute one cent each.

Secretary Sullivan planned to leave tonight for San Francisco to arrange for the international athletic meet in connection with the Panama-Pacific exposition.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, March 2.—Increment crop damage had a rallying effect today on wheat, especially the July delivery. As a result the market closed steady at prices ranging from ⅛ off to ⅛@⅝ up compared with Saturday night. Corn made a net gain of ⅛ to ⅛@⅝ and oats a sixteenth to ⅜ In provisions the finish varied from a shade decline to a rise of 7½.

Something of a stampede occurred among wheat speculators who earlier in the day had been rather free in selling short on account of an absence at first of any reports that autumn-sown fields had been injured by the trying changes of the weather

Later, however, scattering advices came in from Nebraska, Missouri and parts of Illinois that alternate thaws and freezing had in some cases worked considerable harm. It was the first time that crop damage news this season appeared to have a genuine basis

Weakness at the outset in the wheat market came partly as a consequence of lower cables. Special notice was taken of an official report from India that the acreage there was 8,152,000 as against 9,289,000 a year ago Much surprise had been that India would have little or no wheat for export

Corn showed undeniable strength, prices, except at the outset, gaining even when wheat was on the decline. Country deliveries were said to be virtually nothing. The leading bull interest was conspicuous in the buying Trading in oats was light, but values hardened in sympathy with corn Texas damage reports offset Oklahoma assertions of increased acreage

In the provision crowd, packers were good buyers, but on the ensuing bulge there was considerable selling pressure of a speculative sort In the end the market ruled easy

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Mar 2 2—Activities in the financial district were largely curtailed today by the storm which kept brokers from the exchange and customers from the commission houses.

The volume of trading was the smallest of the year.

The market sagged but the decline was due less to pressure than to listlessness. London sent over a lower range of prices and then cabled selling orders of about 15,000 shares This was about the only positive influence on the home market and was mainly responsible for the day's movement The decline was of small proportions, only a handful of the standard shares falling a point or more

Traders favored the short side, believing that the technical position had been weakened by the driving in of the shorts last week. The unfavorable bank statement of Saturday and additional railroad reports for January showing large decreases in earnings, also affected the list adversely New York Central's January net fell off $3,664,000.

Reports of growing dullness in the copper market found corroboration, so far as concerns the foreign situation, in the increase in supplies shown in the fortnightly European statistics

United States Express was one of the few stocks to develop strength. It lose six points. The bond market was irregular Sales, 1,745,000

THE BOY AND HIS COUNTRY

The scout should be a lover of his country. He should know his country. How many states there are in it, what are its natural resources, scope of boundaries. He ought to know something of its history, its early settlers and of the great deeds that won his land. How they settled along the banks of the James river How Philadelphia, New York and the other great cities were [illegible]. How the Pilgrim Fathers established New England and laid the foundation for our national life. How the scouts of the middle west saved all that great section of the country for the republic He ought to know how Texas became a part of the United States, and how our national heroes stretched out their hands north and south, east and west, to make one great united country

He ought to know the history of the important wars. He ought to know about our army and navy flags and the insigns of rank of our officers. He ought to know the kind of government he lives under, and what it means to live in a republic. He ought to know who is expected of him as a citizen of his state and nation and what to do to help the people among whom he lives.

In short to be a scout is to be a well developed well informed boy.

WAILS FROM ALIMONY CLUB

Sheriff Julius' Successor Banishes Luxuries From Ludlow Street Jail

Marie Louis Wright in the New York Mail

Beginning right now der chail iss a chail, hein? and not a premium parlor where unpaid alimony checks are exchanged for beds of roses. Schon!!

Julius has departed Max has come. Max S. Grifenhagen. Naw York's new sheriff, has, in short, battened down the lid on Ludlow jail

No more comic opera," says he. "Daily baths instead"

When this edict went forth, you could hear the commotion clear to the corner of Allen street by Grand. Baths! Donnerwetter! Can you beat that for an insult"

"It's a mistake—that strenuous discipline," was Past Sheriff Julius Harburger's comment "Get out your notebook and take this down I know Grifenhagen, he's a fine man, a gentleman, a conscientious and able official.

"But he is wrong when he treats nonciminals like criminals. If Ludlow jail was a detention place for felons, that would be different again. It is not It is a debtors' prison—a place for petty offenders Most of the men in what you reporters call the alimony club are totally unable to pay the high alimony required by the court

"I believe in redeeming men with kindness, not with harsh discipline"

"There could not be a harder man to succeed," said Mr Grifenhagen, "than my friend Harburger The rest cure patients in Ludlow street jail cannot be expected to relinquish their luxuries without protest But they've got to do it I want to see fewer men here As it is now, the 'punishment' puts a premium on the 'crime.' They live better in jail than out of it!

"Persons are sent here for cause and should not be pink-tead and perfumed and petted and visited by their fair friends as a reward for wrongdoing.

"Most of the men here are of the type that earn $6, $8 and $10 a week and cannot, or will not, support their wives and children they have brought into the world

"The affinity plays a large part in their domestic troubles and I shall not encourage that type of desertion cases by making a term in the county jail a season of rest and vacation.

"Another thing Far too many 'deputies' with tin badges and a certain authority are toting guns about this town. I have had to devote much time to letters of protest on the score. It is," said the new sheriff, with a kind and patient-under-difficulties smile "a harder job to unscramble eggs than to scramble them

"This much is certain, however, that during my term as sheriff, the soiree, the banquet and the musical comedy shall be banished from Ludlow jail and baths, plain living and unbroken rules shall be in order."

Aluminum Ware

How supremely useful it is! It will last a lifetime because it's so thick and durable, but yet it is lighter than a thin iron or tin pan.

It can be kept so attractively clean, too. It need never lose its beautiful luster if you use "Swissalu Cleaner" on it.

Come in and see how well each piece is designed for its particular use.
